HIGHEST QUALITY HIGHEST AWARDS

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S HEAD.

The 1920 supply of War Savings Stamps have made their appearance, and advanced copies show that they are far more attractive in appearance than the 1919 series, which will disappear from the market on the night of December 31.

The new "Baby Bonds" will be available to the public on January 1, and the price will be just the same as it was last January—$4.12. They will pursue the same course as the familiar blue stamps of 1919, and when next December rolls around they will be selling for $4.23 and on January 1, 1925, they will be worth $5 in gold.

The new stamp is somewhat larger than the 1919 stamp, and is a beautiful carmine in color. The head of Benjamin Franklin, which appears on the old stamp, is replaced by the head of George Washington.

SPLENDID COUGH MEDICINE

"As I feel that every family should know what a splendid medicine Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is, I am only too pleased to relate my experience and only wish that I had known of its merits years ago," writes Mrs. Clay Fry, Ferguson Station, Mo. "I give it to my children when they show the slightest symptoms of being croupy, and when I have a cough or cold on the lungs a very few doses will relieve me, and by taking it for a few days I soon get rid of the cold."

LACK OF CAVALRY COST MANY LIVES

ADEQUATE SUPPLY OF HORSES WOULD HAVE GROUND HUNS INTO DUST.

ENEMY ALLOWED TO ESCAPE

Work of Mounted Board Must Receive Thoughtful Encouragement of All Americans If We Are to Occupy Place of World Leadership.

No phase of the vital subject of national defense is of higher significance than the proposition of military horse supply. The military side of American life means more now than the United States has, perhaps, assumed a dominant role in world politics, than it has in the past. It is agreed by farseeing statesmen that economic and political eventualities will in a decade or so force the United States into a position of military leadership in the world whether that sort of leadership may seem desirable to the great majority of the people or not.

It is hardly necessary to say that the great war proved that, more than ever is the horse, and the right sort of horse, indispensable to the successful prosecution of military operations. It is only repetition to say that the strategy of the American expeditionary force in France last year and the year before was repeatedly and seriously embarrassed by the woeful insufficiency of its horse equipment and of the discouraging inefficiency of the horses that were sent overseas by the hardworked remount division of the army on this side, albeit these animals were the very best the country had to send. They were the comings of the entire country.

Supply of Allies Depleted.

The embarrassment of the armies of the powers associated with the United States in the struggle against German world domination was not so great as was that experienced by the forces of Pershing, but it was serious nevertheless. The horse supply of Great Britain and France, although reinforced by tremendous importations from the United States, South America, South Africa, Canada and Australia, had been terribly depleted by the casualties of three years of fighting by the time our armies became formidable. No replacements were available.

Thousands of fine young lives were sacrificed in the titanic struggle that raged from the English channel to the frontier of Switzerland from the beginning of 1918 to the middle of November because the underhoming of allied artillery limited the protection that artillery should have rendered to the attacking infantry. Ludendorff repeatedly refers in his story of the German defeat to merciful pauses (merciful to the hard pressed German army) in the French, British and American attack that enabled his commanders to extricate hard fighting divisions from perilous positions that were necessitated by the inability of the attacking artillery and transport services to keep pace with the advancing infantry.

Unnecessary hardship had to be endured by the combat troops of the advancing forces of civilization because poor horsing in the transport services rendered impossible the bringing up of supplies in punctual military fashion. The fruits of victory were lost time and again because of the impossibility of promptly exploiting the achievements of infantry by the employment of large bodies of cavalry. The lack of cavalry at St. Mihiel, at Chateau Thierry, in the Argonne and at Sedan made American officers steeped in the traditions of Forrest and Stuart, of Pleasanton and Sheridan fairly cry. There were some so called cavalry regiments in the A. E. F., but they were not cavalry. At no time was a single American cavalry regiment mounted.

Victory Would Have Been Great.

Even the cavalry of the British and French armies, which had been fairly well horsed at the beginning of the war and more carefully conserved than had been the cavalry of the other members of the anti-German alliance, was found wholly insufficient to push home victory and convert mere defeats of the German armies into routs in comparison with which the French disasters of Sedan and Metz in 1870 would have been considered by the military writers of the future as orderly military operations.

The entente allies and the United States had about three and a half million soldiers in the field on the western front in October, 1918, when they began to press the previously successful Germans back toward the Rhine in deadly earnest. If 300,000 to 500,000 of these fighting men had been cavalry mounted on half bred horses, the best military opinion in this country and in France and Great Britain holds, the German defeat would have been the most complete and most humiliating defeat in military history. There would have been no fairly orderly withdrawal of the soldiers of the German Crown Prince, of Rupprecht, the Brute, of Van Galwitz, of Von Arnim and of Von Boehm across the Rhine to be received at home as unbeaten heroes. The bulk of the German forces that began their march thrust for Paris and victory in pride and insolence under the eye of the violet picking Hohenzollern paranoiac would have remained on the west bank of the Rhine prisoners of war to begin, when the peace conference directed the restoration of those portions of Belgium and France which they had so barbarously devastated.

Army Allowed to Escape.

There would have been no dickerings for terms, no impudent notes, no outrageous counter proposals to the moderate terms of the plenipotentiaries of outraged civilization. There would have been no malicious flooding of mines in the French coal country. There would have been no sabotage in French and Belgian industrial districts. There would have been no pirating of industrial machinery and wanton destruction of machinery that could not be hurried into Germany to give Kultur a commercial start on the countries Kultur outraged. The disintegrating German military machine would have had no time in which to put over the carefully planned scheme of giving Kultur industrial victory in spite of Kultur military defeat by converting lands already cruelly ravaged by German soldiery into industrial and agricultural wastes.

For generations to come peasant farmers of Belgium and France and industrial workers of Lille, Lens, Bruges, Brussels, Namur, Liege and Mons will deplore the lack of military foresight which failed to provide the armies of Great Britain, France and the United States which expelled the Teutonic invader from their countries in 1918, with adequate cavalry.—Adv.

PET CORNS

Few Drops of "Freezone," Then Lift Corn Right Off

Couldn't "Unthink."

Elizabeth had broken her precious dolly and was inconsolable. The entire family united in trying to cheer her up and make her forget her sorrow. One day soon after the catastrophe her mother found her in tears and, putting her arms about her, said: "Tell mother what's the trouble, dear." To which the little one made answer: "Oh, mother, I can't unthink about my dolly."

The Order of the Bath.

A very youthful British tourist, arrived at an old-fashioned hostelry, had the imprudence to order a bath in his room for the next morning. Very early he was awakened by sounds of hammering somewhere overhead. Then followed much bumping on the stairs; evidently a large and cumbersome weight was being brought down. The noise ceased outside his own door, which flew open, and in staggered two strong men bearing the big bath from the public bathroom, dismounted for his morning ablutions!

Ancient Needlework.

The early Britons were expert in needlework, and the earliest (British) Church of England before the fifth century won fame from its "hand-maidens of the church," who made linens and altar frontals for numberless churches in Europe. Tapestry, the work of queens like Matilda and noble ladies in olden times was largely needlework.

SHOULD BE QUARANTINED

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure—the sooner one rids himself of a cold the less the danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold. Pepto-Mangan Obtainable in Liquid

the Genuine

There is really no reason why men or women with thin, watery blood and constant poor health should remain in that unfortunate condition. Thin, nervous, run-down, tired people never get much happiness out of life.

Men and women with the bloom of health in their cheeks, a cheerful, sunny disposition and an attractive personality are the folks who get most out of life's enjoyment, pleasure and success.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan furnishes thin, watery blood with the necessary nourishment to enrich it, enabling it to supply energy, vitality and strength to every part of the body.

Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan to patients suffering from anemia because its beneficial and lasting qualities are well-known to the medical profession.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is obtainable in either liquid or tablet form. Both forms contain exactly the same strength and medicinal properties.

When you buy Pepto-Mangan of your druggist be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. (adv)

WHY WAIT?

Service men, why wait to restate your War Risk Insurance? Waiting may spell danger or disaster to health. No time is quite so good as now, especially in view of the fact that you may secure insurance reinstatement without reference to your present state of health, provided your application for reinstatement is made within three calendar months following the month of your discharge from the service. If discharged longer than three months and less than eighteen months, it is necessary to state in your application that your health is as good as at date of discharge.

SIGNALS OF DISTRESS

Paris People Should Know How To Read and Heed Them.

Disordered kidneys give many signals of distress. The secretions may be dark, contain sediment.

Passages are sometimes frequent, scanty, painful. Backache is often present day and night.

Headaches and dizzy spells may occur. Weakened kidneys should receive quick help.

Don't delay! Use a special kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys, backache and urinary disorders.

Paris evidence proves their worth. Chas. Stewart, tinsmith, Lilleston avenue, says: "I have had three or four attacks of lumbago in the past few years, the first being the worst. There was a constant, dull ache in my back all the time and often sharp, cutting pains darted through it. It sometimes seemed as though I could hardly endure the misery. I tried different remedies with no results. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them from the Ardery Drug Co. The first box helped me and I continued taking them until cured. Attacks since then have always been slight. Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to relieve me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Stewart had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
